

Konkin Admits Accused Met

(Special to The Courier)

VERNON—Crown prosecutor John B. Alkens of Penticton, made an admission of fact this morning in the Assize Court trial of five men on charges of conspiracy to make an explosive substance and to cause serious damage.

As the trial entered its seventh day, Mr. Alkens admitted that an identifiable finger or thumb print on the face of a pocket watch, which was part of a line of items found in the Allison Hotel June 28, did not belong to any of the five accused.

The crown prosecutor also admitted in court that the print did not belong to any of four RCMP officers who conducted the investigation.

Cpl. D. A. Jobling, testified before Mr. Justice Arthur Lord and a jury of 11 men and one woman, that he had examined other parts of the time bomb but was unable to find a clear print. He also identified photographs taken of the damage at the Willow Inn Hotel in Kelowna and sketches that he had made earlier this month of the Konkin home in Winfield.

VERNON — A statement accepted as evidence Wednesday in the trial of five men on charges of conspiracy to make an explosive substance—admitted all five were together at a time, a few hours before a Kelowna hotel explosion.

Time bombs after this meeting, also were found in a Vernon hotel and on a Kelowna-Westbank ferry.

The statement had been given to an investigating RCMP officer by Sam Konkin, one of the five accused.

The statement, which defence lawyers argued was not made voluntarily, said Konkin and his brother Alex were joined at their Winfield home by three others early in the evening of June 28. Bombs were found that evening in the Allison Hotel, Vernon, and in the men's washroom of the MV Lequime a short time later. The Kelowna explosion occurred about 2:15 a.m. June 29.

The other three charged are John Antufeff, John Nazareff and George Woykin.

A statement by Alex Konkin also was ruled admissible but the full contents of the statement have not yet been revealed in open court.

Thelma Neufeld, cashier and clerk at a Vernon supermarket, testified she sold three rolls of adhesive tape and two flashlight batteries, similar to the one found in the time bomb discovered in the Vernon hotel. But, she said, she could not recognize the man who made the purchase.

A sales slip covering the purchase has been entered as an exhibit in the trial which now has gone one day over a week.

Mrs. Leatha Bealey, who operates a store near the Konkins Winfield residence, testified to sale of sealer type jars to Sam Konkin. Under cross-examination by defence counsel Harry Dean, she admitted the jars could have been purchased for canning, as the fruit season was just beginning.

August Hallwas, now of McBride, B.C., testified he had rented his home on Reiswig Road, Winfield, to the Konkins on a two-month agreement, with option to purchase at the end of the two months.

Strachan Blasts Bennett Probes

VICTORIA (CP) — Premier Bennett is by-passing the legislature in naming a royal commission to investigate B.C. Power Commission financing, Opposition Leader Robert Strachan declares.

While giving "limited endorsement" to such a royal commission, Mr. Strachan said such a step "is not the same as a legislative committee as I proposed."

He said since Social Credit has been in power in B.C., there have been 10 royal commissions and special enquiry investigations.

"The members of the legislature are elected to examine the affairs of the province. In by-passing them Mr. Bennett is again showing his contempt for our provincial legislation and what it stands for."

Mr. Strachan was answering a speech given by the premier at nearby Sidney Monday night, a speech Mr. Strachan described as "long, disjointed, rambling diatribe."

BACKGROUND
The premier said he would ask a royal commission to look into his power-financing schemes as well as charges levelled last week by former B.C. Power Commission manager H. L. Briggs.

The commission is to look into a $15,000,000 cost over estimates in construction of the BCPC Strathcona development dam on the Upper Campbell and "everything else," the premier said.

"My reluctance to give blanket endorsement to a royal commission is because we have not yet been told the exact terms of reference under which it will work," Mr. Strachan said.

"If it is to be a simple enquiry into operation of the BCPC, then it does not go far enough."

"What is required at this time is a full scale enquiry into power policies of the premier as well as especially the policies of the B.C. Electric and Wenner-gren companies."

Bonner Says Sommers' Bank Loan Balance No Trial Issue

VANCOUVER (CP)—Attorney-General Robert Bonner says he is "happy" he doesn't know who paid off the $6,000 balance on former forest minister Robert Sommers' bank loan.

In an interview here Mr. Bonner said the loan is "a dead question. It was not a matter at issue in Sommers' bribe-conspiracy trial. It had no relationship in my understanding to the circumstances that made the original matter one for the courts."

Asked who paid the loan, the attorney-general replied, "I'm happy to say I don't know."

Asked if he felt any discomfort or embarrassment over the handling of the Sommers case, Mr. Bonner said, "None whatsoever."

KNOWN FACTS
In the light of known facts action was taken conscientiously, he said, but added: "We might wish that different facts had revealed themselves at an earlier period of time."

As for possible retrial in the case of defendants over whom the jury disagreed Mr. Bonner said he was "willing recommendations from his staff."

On newspaper editorials calling for Mr. Bonner's resignation: "They have been consistently against me in my public life. They didn't elect me and I'm not taking their advice on whether to return to private life."

Should there be a general election? "Certainly not. We have been in office two years with an extra large mandate. We are in the middle of a program which is useful and popular."

"If our policies were not popular and useful we'd have two party leaders who don't hold seats running in the Trail bye-election."

Valley Sun Shines Despite Heavy Overnight Snowfall

Arizona and the Okanagan have one thing in common. Lots of sunshine.

And it returned today—amid the snows—to Kelowna, but not until an overnight fall parked two-and-three-quarter inches of the white stuff on Orchard City doorsteps.

The snowfall was accompanied by a low of 25 degrees Wednesday night.

However, city and district experienced little difficulty and Kelownians found little this morning to disturb their daily outlook. Police reported no serious accidents and the fire department said all was quite on the ambulance front.

But provincial government plowmen were routed out at 5 a.m. to tackle district roads and highways were in travelling shape before noon. A highways department spokesman said "no trouble whatever" was encountered.

Power lines have been unaffected by snowfall, officials of West Kootenay Power and Light Company told The Daily Courier.

Chief reason, linemen said, was the light texture of snow which melted quickly or dropped off wires. Likewise, telephone line-men were not called out.

Text companies experienced a slight increase in fares travelling to and from work in Kelowna and walking residents reported sidewalk treacherous to some extent.

A few reported landing on post-ers because of slippery conditions, although early birds said they had "to break trail."

Valley motorists said drive-ways had to be shoveled and frozen windshields scraped. Most cars carried large loads of piled-up snow to places of work.

DOUBLE INQUEST SET FOR NOV. 28

Friday, November 28, is the date set for a double inquest into the deaths of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Carlson, who died as a result of a two-car collision, Nov. 14, on the KLO road.

No charge as yet has been laid against the juvenile driver of the other car.

Mrs. Clara Carlson, 55, of Patsy Road, Okanagan Mission, died a short time after the collision. Her husband, Carl August Carlson, 64, succumbed in Kelowna General Hospital Tuesday.

Fruitmen Will Attend Freight Rate Meeting

A fruit industry delegation, headed by Gordon Wight, of Oliver, president of B.C. Tree Fruits, Ltd., will attend a meeting called by Attorney-General Robert Bonner, Friday, in connection with the freight rate issue, according to R. P. Walrod, general manager of BCTF.

Representatives of all B.C. industries, affected by the threatened 17 percent freight hike, authorized recently by the board of transport commissioners, have been invited by the provincial government to attend the conference.

Mr. Wight will be accompanied by L. R. Stephens, secretary-manager, Okanagan Federated Shippers Association, and G. S. Webster, traffic manager BCTF.

THE WEATHER

Cloudy and mild today and Friday with showers of mixed rain and snow. Southerly winds 15, frequently reaching southerly 35 in the Okanagan Valley. Low tonight and high Friday at Kelowna 30 and 42. Temperatures recorded Wednesday 25 and 36 with 2 3/4 inches of snow.

O'Reilly Says Different System Stymies Packers Thus Far

MOSCOW (AP) — Coach Jack O'Reilly ran the Packers through an hour-long practice session today in hopes of finding the key to bring them their first victory.

The Packers play a Moscow junior team for their fourth

A different system of playing by the Russians is responsible for the Canadians' inability to score a victory, O'Reilly feels. So do the team members who say the Soviet players concentrate on checking opponents rather than trying to score.

"They're even throwing themselves at us to try to check us," one of the Packers said.

O'Reilly said that each of the Canadians so far has been unable "to get going on the ice" because he finds a Russian opponent "has got a hold on his shoelaces all the time."

"But we're coming up now and starting to get an idea of how the Soviet teams play," O'Reilly said.

Refute City Charge Bennett Led Group

Premier W. A. C. Bennett had nothing to do with the promoting of the new district of Guisachan.

And although the premier signed the petition, his signature was not secured until more than half of the 39 land owners had consented to the incorporation.

This was emphasized by G. D. Cameron and Tom Wilkinson, two members of the organizing committee who were in charge of circulating the petition.

The two men came to the defence of the premier after city council last Monday night charged that Mr. Bennett was one of the main property holders and a leader in the formation of the new local district.

Mr. Bennett owns five acres of land in the Guisachan area. A total of 400 acres are involved in the proposed incorporation.

Other points stressed by the two spokesmen were:

1. Guisachan land owners do not want to be forced to come into the city by "pressure groups," but are willing to take a "second look" when need for expanding city boundaries arises.

2. Deny incorporation would cause ribbon development. There's ample room for extension of city boundaries adjacent to the Guisachan area.

3. Guisachan land owners will vote some time in January as to whether they wish to incorporate.

4. Main purpose for incorporation is so the area can speak as an organized group rather than individual farmers.

5. Guisachan is a stable farming community, many of the land owners being second generation farmers.

Mr. Wilkinson pointed out that the special committee met Mr. Bennett earlier in the summer as the local MLA, to seek his advice as to the course of procedure to be followed. The petition was first circulated on August 11, and it was not until August 15 that Mr. Bennett signed the petition, as an individual land owner, after more than half of the eligible persons had signed the petition, Mr. Wilkinson explained.

NO REPLY TO LETTERS

It is understood the main reason for city council being so critical was due to the provincial government failing to reply to correspondence dealing with the proposed incorporation. The matter had been discussed on numerous occasions in committee, and it was not until Monday night that it came up in open council.

Mr. Cameron admitted the special committee had met representatives of the city, and that the reasons for incorporating had been fully explained.

Following is a brief drafted yesterday by the Guisachan representatives in reply to statements made at Monday night's council meeting:

1. It is a rural area. It is over one-quarter the size of Kelowna and in it there are only 39 land owners—and of these, ten of them are merely extra names as joint owners with others of the same property. Their interests are

"Quit!" Briggs Tells Bennett

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

VERNON — H. Lee Briggs Wednesday night reiterated charges against the British Columbia government that led to his firing last week as general manager of the government-owned B.C. Power Commission.

Mr. Briggs was given a standing ovation by the Vernon Board of Trade. It was his first public address since making his charges against the government through prepared statements.

In his 90-minute speech, he again said the Social Credit government's proposal that the B.C. Power Commission refinance outstanding capital debt at higher interest costs was to help the government "fulfill a pledge to wipe out the province's direct debt."

This was the substance of the charges that led to his firing. He also took another swipe at the B.C. Electric Company, Limited, which he criticized in a follow-up statement last week.

Stock market reports can be verified to show that the big power utility makes 19 per cent compounded annually, he said, which "isn't half bad."

Mr. Briggs called on Premier Bennett to resign.

"I think it's a waste of time," said Mr. Briggs, "but you could suggest to Mr. Bennett it's about time he resigned."

The only dissenting voice in the audience of 125 was that of Earl Backman, of Penticton, who said he "just dropped in."

He asked Mr. Briggs why he quit his $25,000-a-year job when refinancing was "just a proposal," and why he gave the premier a vote of thanks at the recent opening of the Battle Lake hydro project and resigned "so soon after."

Mr. Briggs said he had received instructions the refinancing must be done before the end of the year. He did not give the premier a vote of thanks, but did thank the contractors and engineers "who had performed so remarkably."

Continuing on the refinancing plan, Mr. Briggs told his listeners:

"Here's what I want you to do. Ask your member to ask Mr. Fisher, comptroller-general, to verify to show that the big power utility makes 19 per cent compounded annually, he said, which 'isn't half bad.'"

Penticton Casts Envious Looks Northward Come Regatta Time

The Penticton Herald recently carried an editorial which should be read — and well pondered — by the people of Kelowna. The Herald said:

"By tossing the responsibility for a successful Peach Festival directly into the laps of the general populace, the Peach Festival Association has done a wise thing. People in Penticton have in the past taken too much for granted."

"It should not need an editorial or a Peach Festival Association to tell the city that growth rarely takes place this way. Growth needs effort and enterprise, and this is just what the men and women who for the past years have battled the negligent attitude of our community are trying to say."

"Each year we turn our eyes enviously towards Kelowna come Regatta time and wonder why Penticton's Peach Festival cannot be as popular or as well organized. The answer is simple. Kelowna's Regatta is a community affair. Almost every citizen in the town gets excited about it and makes a contribution towards its success. In Penticton we have a few people who are in the orchard shade and grumble because the handful of people to whom we have left Peach Festival work have not done a better job."

"These people recognize the need for drastic revision in our yearly festival, and they further recognize that new ideas must come from the community as a whole."

"Two meetings are to be called this month. The first is a general meeting for discussion on what is needed to improve the festival. The second is a meeting of executive officers for the coming year. Both, if the community wants to keep the Peach Festival going and growing, should be well attended. When the meeting dates are announced make a note to be there. It is your festival. Make it your business to boost it, encourage it, and see that in 1959 it finally reaches the true community project stage."

Those are strong words of praise for Kelowna and Kelowna's regatta, especially as they come from Penticton. But laudatory as they are, they still carry a warning for the people of this city.

They recall, for instance, that the Regatta has been functioning now for more than half a century. They recall, too, that cities to the north of us and cities to the south of us have tried to establish some similar function and failed; stampedes, horse-racing, square dancing, frontier days and what have you. Only the Penticton Peach Festival of them all has managed to exist a few years. And it would appear to be near a-dying.

While the Penticton editorial did not say so openly it nevertheless is obvious that should Kelowna ever falter in its three-ringed circus that it calls "Regatta", Penticton would grab the idea quickly. It probably would have a nice fight on its hands with Vernon and Kamloops as all three cities lick their lips with envy as they contemplate the local festival.

Everything the Herald says about the Peach Festival is equally applicable to the Regatta. It cannot function without the support of the whole community simply because it is the community. The Regatta officials and the community should never for a moment forget that.

Like all such affairs, it has its ups and downs. This year, for instance, the directors, like many others of their ilk all over the province, were a little carried away by the centennial idea and erred in extending the affair by another day. However hindsight tells us they erred. When they made their decision a year ago, they failed to appreciate that every crossroad hamlet would be having a celebration and so keeping their people at home. Nor did they know a ferry strike on Vancouver Island would keep thousands of Americans from coming to B.C. at all. These and other things did have a detrimental effect upon the anticipated attendance.

But next year is another year. Perhaps the Regatta could stand a little tightening up and streamlining, but basically the foundations are sound and there is no reason why it cannot continue to be successful enough to cause our Penticton friends to each year turn their eyes "enviously towards Kelowna come Regatta time and wonder why Penticton's Peach Festival cannot be as popular and as well organized."

The times are in our hands and they can remain there if we—the community—put a little time and effort and co-operation and planning into future Regattas. It is a heritage we have received from the early settlers. Should we ever discard it it would be quickly picked up by other presently-envious cities.

Premier Played No Part

As reported in this paper Tuesday, apparently Premier W. A. C. Bennett has been the target for some unjustified criticism regarding the formation of the Gaisan rural improvement district. The inference obtained from comment at Monday's city council meeting was that he was one of the prime movers in the formation of the district.

Yesterday the two principal figures of the move told this newspaper that Mr. Bennett had almost nothing to do with the scheme. The plans were well forwarded when he was consulted as the local member of the legislature. The petition was practically completed before his signature was sought.

The suggestion that Mr. Bennett was one of the instruments in the proposed formation of the district would appear to be ill-founded and without any support.

There does, however, remain the question of whether he was wise in signing the petition at all. Certainly as a private citizen, he had every right to do so, but unfortunately a premier of a province can never quite be a private citizen. The signing by him of a petition, any petition, automatically gives additional weight to the petition by virtue of the fact it does carry his signature. This, of course, is a small point. However the fact does remain that by signing the petition Mr. Bennett did lay the foundations for a normal and logical misinterpretation of the whole situation.

The assurances of Messrs. Cameron and Wilkinson that they alone were responsible for the organization of the district and the signing of the petition and that Mr. Bennett had no part in it should clarify and terminate a matter which had been the cause of considerable public comment during the past few days.

Experts Predict Menzies Gov't Will Be Re-Elected

CANBERRA (CP) — Five million Australian voters elect a new government Saturday and most of the political experts predict another term of office for the Liberal-Country Party coalition led by Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies.

But more and more people are saying that the Labor Party, led by Dr. Herbert Vere Evatt, has a chance. Evatt has promised more family benefits and some tax concessions — among these making all fares to and from work an income tax deduction. The Menzies government had 75 members in the old House of Representatives, which has 122 voting seats. The Labor Party had 47.

NEED 15 SEATS
Labor would need a gain of about 15 seats to win, and an eight-per-cent swing in the vote would be necessary.

About 150,000 new Australians, naturalized citizens of European origin, could swing the balance. A few weeks ago few gave Evatt much of a chance. Australia is prosperous, even though the boom days are over. Evatt is distrusted by a great number of middle-of-the-road voters. The Labor movement is split.

But Evatt has received the best press he has ever had. Editorial writers say Menzies asks for votes without saying what he will do. They say he should have offered some plan for declining agricultural and export industries.

TIME FOR CHANGE?

And many people are saying, "It's time we had a change." Both Menzies and Evatt are 61. Menzies is smooth, in appearance and voice. Evatt's clothes are always crumpled, his voice heard in a raspy Australian drawl. Neither is very popular with the man in the street. Menzies is too aloof and cocksure to be a popular figure; Evatt is too unpredictable, too left-wing for many.

ELECTED SENATE
Australia uses the single-transferable-vote system of preferential balloting for the lower house; full proportional representation for the Senate.

It is in the Senate, where government and opposition groups have been deadlocked with 30 seats each, that the Menzies coalition hopes to make its best showing. There is a good chance that the government will regain a majority.

Half the Senate comes up for election each three years. This year 32 seats are at stake because of vacancies caused by deaths.

The City of Kelowna will get approximately $22,000 on December 15 from the provincial government's sales tax collections. This was confirmed by Premier Hyron Johnson in a letter received by Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THE SOMMERS CASE

The Editor,
Kelowna Courier

Dear Sir:

I consider that it is the duty of the opposition parties to express their opinions regarding the government's handling of the Sommers case.

The matter should also come up for discussion when the legislature meets in January and when alterations in the forest-management act may be found necessary.

However, in my opinion, it would be a great mistake for any opposition party to carry on a sustained campaign about the case because a sustained campaign, where accusations are repeated "ad nauseam", will undoubtedly bring counter accusations and an unprecedented bitterness will be created. The Province, which means all of us, will be the worse for it.

I am quite sure that the great statesmen of our country such as Mr. John D. Diefenbaker, Mr. Louis St. Laurent, Mr. M. J. Coldwell and Mr. Lester B. Pearson will be in full accord with this point of view.

I think the tragedy that has occurred could be prevented from ever happening again by the adoption of the following procedure.

All new cabinet ministers, some of whom may know nothing about the pitfalls and the problems involved in the exercise of the power given them, to be briefed by the premier or the attorney-general in person, in a carefully prepared statement.

This statement should point out to them their responsibilities as cabinet ministers, their vulnerability as cabinet ministers and the need to be constantly vigilant to be worthy of the great honor that has been bestowed upon them.

Yours truly,

DOG POISONER

The Editor,
The Daily Courier

Dear Sir: A few days ago a little puppy ran on to the boulevard near its owner's home, on Abbott St. Shortly afterwards it died in agony.

Mr. Editor, the dog poisoner is with us again. He is fortunate in that he is not a child poisoner as well. Small children have been known to pick up food off the road and put it in their mouths.

If this person had any valid complaint against this dog or other dogs there are the proper authorities to whom to appeal. A phone call to the owners would no doubt have elicited their full co-operation.

Consider Fumes Instead Of Fins Car Makers Urged

TORONTO (CP) — Automobile manufacturers should stop spending money on bigger and better tailfins and should concentrate on reducing fumes from exhausts, says Dr. Marguerite Bailey.

As chairman of the air pollution committee for the Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs of Ontario, she is leading a fight against air pollution which she describes as a growing problem, and a threat to health.

"Women all over the province must campaign in their own municipalities to reduce smoke and other offensive fumes," she said.

On the car question, she says no adequate system has been found to reduce exhaust fumes. "The problem of fumes is much more pressing than providing bigger and better tailfins on cars. Manufacturers should speed their research, and the public should insist on it."

On the general air pollution problem, she urges women to act in these ways: check to make sure their own furnaces are clean and adequate for the job they do; check on the heating apparatus in their churches, schools and municipal offices, and keep the public informed.

Magnificent New Cathedral Rising

By M. McINTYRE HOOD

LONDON — A magnificent new cathedral is nearing completion near the town of Guildford in Surrey, a town well known to many thousands of Canadian war veterans. It stands on a high hill close to the town, on a site which gives a wide vista of the surrounding rolling countryside.

This new cathedral will have a special interest for Canadians, because in it there is to be a Canadian chapel. It is still in the planning stage. When they were over here in August for the Lambeth Conference, however, a group of Canadian bishops went down to Guildford and gave their approval to the plan and to the site chosen for this Canadian chapel.

In the two world wars, Canada had a close association with Guildford and the neighborhood. Thousands of Canadians were at nearby Witley Camp in the first world war. During the 1939-1945 war the first division to arrive here was quartered at Aldershot, at the other end of the Hog's Back Road from Guildford. In fact, Canadians are remembered as having "occupied" West Surrey. Many of them married young women of the district. The chief burial ground of the men and women of the Canadian forces who died in Britain in both wars is at Brookwood, only a few miles away.

There is another Canadian link to the Guildford Cathedral. A memorial tablet, commemorates the gift of the late Viscount Bennett, former prime minister of Canada, who lived for some time at Mickleham, in the diocese, of a sum of money to buy the land surrounding the site of the Cathedral.

Canada Chapel is planned to be in the style of the conventional college chapel, with stalls on either side, and a ceiling of Canadian timber, painted and gilded with appropriate Canadian emblems. It is the hope of the Bishop of Guildford, that regimental and other Canadian memorials will take the form of plates similar to those in the Knights' Stalls of the historic chapels of the Orders of Chivalry.

STEVENAGE, England (CP) — The development corporation in this Hertfordshire town is considering a proposal that parking kennels with coin slots be installed to keep the town centre clear of dogs.

COLOR TV

LONDON (CP) — It would cost about £16,000,000 to start a color television service in Britain, an economic planning board reports. Transmitters and linking facilities for a nationwide service would cost about £10,000,000 and studios and production facilities about £6,000,000.

BIRTHDAYS

Every year, with monotonous regularity, each of us celebrates a birthday. With each birthday, we grow a little older. If we also grow a little wiser, we realize what life insurance can do for our future and for our families. And on each birthday, we would be wise to ask ourselves a few questions:

"Have my circumstances changed since last year? Do I now need greater life insurance coverage? Had I better not do something about it immediately before my age changes again, and my new policy which I take out proves more expensive?"

City Debentures Will Not Be Sold Until Next Year, Council Is Told

J. E. Brown, inspector of municipalities, has notified city council it is unlikely any further Kelowna waterworks or sewer debentures will be offered for sale by the department of finance until early 1959.

It was stated that normally the city would have sold the bonds last spring but decided instead to take advantage of the government-backed guarantee.

Alderman Donald Horton said: "We elected to have the government sell our bonds and it seems unfair we should have to wait."

City Comptroller Douglas Herbert pointed out the city was informed the government would sell the bonds by the end of December. "The bank is anxious because we told them the $300,000 loan would be paid back by now."

MATTER OF POLICY
Council agreed, however, that if the bonds were put on the market now, the city might take a financial beating.

"By holding them back until next year, the government is sincerely trying to save us money," one alderman remarked.

Council members felt that as they are unable to have the bonds returned from the government for the city to market, they are losing the right of tender. It was stated this should be brought before the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association for general discussion in that there should be some way the bonds can be returned to the municipality if the government is unable to sell them.

CITY WILL GET PIECE OF PROPERTY

W. M. Underwood, district superintendent, department of highways, notified council the western end of Queensway will be turned over to the city as soon as the department is finished with the ferries.

NEW STENOGRAPHER FOR POLICE OFFICE

Mrs. H. M. Brewster has been appointed stenographer for the RCMP office, succeeding Kathleen Marie Milligan, who resigned. Starting salary will be $169 a month for three months, then $184.

TAX EXEMPTION BYLAWS APPROVED

Tax exemption bylaws, exempting the following premises from taxes for 1959 were approved by council. They are Kelowna Yacht Club, Badminton hall, curling club, Kelowna Aquatic, and lot 7, map 491, in the name of the Roman Catholic Archbishop of Nelson.

PROVISIONAL BUDGET
SUBMITTED TO COUNCIL

City Comptroller Douglas Herbert submitted the 1959 provisional budget to council this week. Estimated expenditures will be $810,500. Matter was referred to the incoming council.

Ferry Won't Be Used As A Training Ship

The Kelowna Sea Cadet Corps will not be able to acquire the M.S. Pendozi as a training ship. Word to this effect was received from Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi in a letter received by city council. Mr. Gagliardi said he appreciated the value such a vessel would have for this purpose, but pointed out the government can make more use of

ROUSING WELCOME PLANNED WHEN PACKERS RETURN HOME

A rip snorting welcome is planned for Kelowna Packers when they return to Kelowna Nov. 28.

But the official "welcome home" party will not take place until December 17.

The executive of the local board of trade this week made tentative plans to hold a Christmas party on December 17, to which all members will be invited. The official welcome home ceremony for the hockey club will be held in conjunction with the party.

Evening's entertainment starts with a social hour at 6 p.m. followed by a dinner and entertainment.

Board Supports City On Guisachan Issue

Executive of the Kelowna Board of Trade unanimously went on record supporting city's council stand opposing the proposed incorporation of the local district of Guisachan.

At this week's executive meeting, a wire was sent to Premier

Bennett, as local MLA, stating: "The executive of the Kelowna board of trade today unanimously recorded the strongest possible objection to the reported incorporation of the local district of Guisachan and wholeheartedly support Kelowna city council's letter of opposition dated Nov. 17, 1958."

"GREATEST GOOD"
It was felt that the Oberlander report (an exhaustive study made by Professor Peter Oberlander on boundary extensions) would do "the greatest good for the greatest number of people," and that the city should not be held up from expanding by a small minority group.

C. D. Gaddes, immediate past president of the association, was chairman of this week's meeting. Mr. Gaddes pointed out that Premier Bennett had done a great deal for Kelowna since his government took office, and was somewhat surprised to hear that the premier had signed the petition.

"It's a bolt out of the blue," Mr. Gaddes remarked.

The writer said that other buildings with lesser facilities, as well as private homes, seem to be operating with no interference. The letter intimated that social welfare cases are not being placed in the Prince Charles.

Council pointed out that the Prince Charles is not licensed as a rest home, but just as a boarding home, at the present time.

Ald. Denies Report Home
Disapproved

Ald. Dennis Crookes, chairman of the city's health department, this week said he knew of no person or persons who were actively opposing the Prince Charles as a boarding home and said the council has not registered disapproval in any way.

A local resident had written to council asking why there was apparently an unknown source of opposition to the operation of the Prince Charles as a rest home. The writer was not connected with the premises in question.

Winfield Fire Protection Area
Being Studied

WINFIELD—The regular monthly meeting of the Farmer's Institute was held in the club room of the Memorial hall. There were 15 members present also three guests from the volunteer fire brigade. President Tom Dugan was in the chair.

There was much discussion on the two recent fires in the district and the fire protection committee reported that the preliminary work on the plebiscite to form Winfield into a fire district was almost completed and that the canvass would soon be started. Every home in the district will be contacted and homeowners will be asked to sign for or against fire protection.

Delegates Jack Green and Carl Handi, to the District convention of the Farmer's Institute held recently in Revelstoke reported on the convention.

At the close of the business meeting a social period was held and refreshments were served.

RUNWAY CONTRACT MAY BE AWARDED

J. R. Baldwin, deputy minister of transport, this week notified city council that preparation of plans and specifications for the Kelowna airport runway extension project will be completed as soon as possible.

Council wrote Mr. Baldwin to ascertain if work could be completed this winter as an aid to winter employment. Mr. Baldwin said the awarding of the contract may be undertaken at an early date to allow the contractor time to undertake stockpiling and possibly some preliminary grading before the ground freezes.

Council Asked To Provide
P.T. Equipment

A physical fitness instructor questioned city council Monday night why there is no recreation for youngsters at Centennial Hall.

Mrs. Hellevi Cooper, a former member of a national gymnastic team in Finland and who is conducting keep-fit classes for ladies at night school here, contended before the council that there should be at least one night set aside weekly for youngsters to be given physical fitness exercises to ensure proper body building.

Mrs. Cooper recommended that the same classes be held in the City Park during the summer. She deplored the fact that there was no equipment available in Centennial Hall.

Mayor Parkinson advised that work would be undertaken along the suggested lines by the Kelowna Recreation Commission.

The matter was also discussed by the board of trade executive this week, and directors, while approving the matter in principle, referred it to the recreation commission.

Council Members To Attend Parley

Four members of the city council will attend the quarterly meeting of the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association, to be held in Oliver Nov. 27. They are Mayor R. F. Parkinson, and Aldermen Dennis Crookes, Robert Knox and Arthur Jackson. Assistant city clerk James Hutton will also attend. Guest speaker will be T. R. B. Adams, executive director of the Union of B.C. Municipalities.

Municipal assessors, building and plumbing inspectors will also meet at the same time.

PARKING REQUEST DENIED

City council Monday night turned down a request from Gemco Ltd., 901 Ellis St., to have angle parking outside the business premises on the belief that angle parking would permit more cars to park than parallel.

OSHL Must Woo The Fans, Or Be Left At The Altar

By GEORGE INGLIS
(Courier Sports Editor)

Recession has struck at Okanagan senior hockey. The four hockey clubs comprising the Okanagan Senior Hockey League have been losing money every game this season—an economically impossible situation in a community-owned club. There are 3,400 fans short at every hockey game, based on an average attendance minimum of 1,300 (necessary to meet club budgets), and there are no superfluous to trim off from club expenditures to off-set the resulting drop in gate receipts.

Some temporary respite has been obtained by the paring of player-rosters to the bone, dropping two or three players, but this is an unfortunate action, since an injury or two will render these clubs almost incapable of supplying competitive hockey.

Over in the Kootenays, the corpse of the WIHL is still warm, but rigor mortis seems to be setting in. Three clubs, staffed by intermediates laced with a sprinkling of senior "A" players, are valiantly trying to hold things together, but gates have fallen below the 300 mark for some of their league games, adding to the natural difficulty of playing with three teams. The loss of Spokane this year was the last blow in a series of crushing jabs the former world-famous league has suffered in the past few years, and could be fatal.

The Ontario hockey picture is no brighter, with the once-powerful OHA reduced to combining with the NOHA a couple of years ago, and further economy steps taken this year. Even cities with healthy payrolls and many times the population of Okanagan cities have folded their senior "A" clubs in the past decade.

And in the Okanagan, it's one-fold, all-fold.

THE REASONS FOR THE HEAVY DROP in attendance this year over past years, close to 400 per game in Kelowna, are somewhat obscure and could only be determined accurately by an extensive poll.

Certainly, the introduction of television has had an effect on the borderline fans who simply attended the hockey games because it was the smart thing to do, and everyone was doing it. They throw a party now, in front of the TV set, and catch the scores on the late news flash.

Some of the novelty of the game has worn off, too. Not essentially a hockey centre to begin with, the valley had to import players, manufacture ice and create interest in the game. Lovers of soccer, cricket, baseball, and other sports turned toward the new sport, which completely overshadowed basketball and lacrosse, two of the major spectator sports of past valley days. But the color and hustle and glamor faded over the years, and now the thin red line of hockey fans are vainly trying to support the game.

One of the reasons that the novelty has worn off is the lack of color guys, fellows who pull them in at the gate by sheer force of personality. There have been colorful figures in the past, notable among them the Warwick trio, and their effect could be reckoned in figures—on a cash register. Even the greatest detractors of this hockey-famous threesome couldn't argue with Ken McKenzie's bulging purse in the early part of last season, until the unfortunate double-shuffle of coaches knocked him gates on the head.

But mostly, in this corner's estimation, it's public relations. HEREIN IS THE SECRET OF SUCCESS IN SELLING, whether the product is aspirins, TV sets, newspapers or ladies' unmentionables. Without public relations, the potential customer is just a frozen hulk of sales resistance. With public relations in their pitching, he becomes a willing and eager donor.

Every thin green buck he has, however, is the target of millions. There are sales pitches streaming over the radio waves, oozing out of the TV set, glaring out of the newspaper, ringing on the doorbell, and smiling sexily out of posters.

He likes to think he makes his own decisions as to how he'll spend that buck, but in reality it's his false and treacherous senses that succumb from time to time under the murderous assault of these trained hucksters who surround him. It's the huckster who gets the first with the mostest that collects the biggest pile of the public's folding money.

Why, then, is hockey any different?

BELIEVE US BRETHREN, it's not. The members of the hockey executives in the valley, for the most part, are composed of fellows who spend their days trying to pry John Public loose from some of that pocket lettuce, by divers means. If they find their particular brand of thimblebuck is not selling worth a darn, they take a hitch in themselves, regroup their ideas, and come up with an answer. Whether the answer is a livelier advertising campaign, a stunning new gimmick or a cracker-jack salesman, they do what's necessary to get their thimblebuck back into the public hearts again.

Never for one moment would they think of downgrading the customers for not purchasing their product. After all, as business men they realize that the customers accept what is palatable to them, and reject that which is not.

But when they sit on the executive of a hockey club, which is selling entertainment, one of the toughest intangibles in the world to market successfully, they seem to forget all this. They haggle and wrestle over pennies of expenditure trying to reduce their budget, but overlook the fact that even the leanest budget cannot survive if it exceeds the income.

They knock the fans, criticize the news mediums, fight with their brother hockey clubs and harass the players, often publicly. Every move they make is negative, as far as building up public esteem and enhancing the sport in the eyes of the beholder is concerned. Take a look at the sales training for insurance representatives, dealers in another tough intangible, and you will see that negative thinking is the worst enemy of the salesman.

Hockey salesmen are no exceptions.

THE LITTLE FELLOW WITH THE LONG GREEN who makes his way up to that wicket on hockey night is bucking a lot of competition for his buck when he does. In order for him to make that tough decision to lay his doubloons down, he must feel he is going to be entertained in return. He must feel warmer toward the actors in that rink than he does toward any other medium of entertainment available.

This is where we have fallen down, to date—in making him feel warm and kindly toward the game, and its players. Some elements mistakenly felt that wild and woolly hockey draws customers—it does draw a sadistically curious element to one or two games, but their enthusiasm vanishes with their curiosity. The true fan has to be slightly in love with the game, and its players.

We have every natural idea how to develop what we want for success here—and no have. There is no spot in Canada where four communities of comparable size and economy dwell within such a short travelling distance, possessing such resources as climate and beauty to help interest players. Our isolation from any other major sports attractions places us in an even more favorable position. We are really ideally suited for marriage. But if we don't get wooing, we'll be left at the altar.

Bathgate Sparks Rangers' Streak

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
Handy Andy lived up to his name in a big way last night. Andy Bathgate, the sparkplug behind New York Rangers' hot test streak in 17 years, turned in a dazzling performance with a goal and four assists as Rangers beat off the last-place Toronto Maple Leafs 7-4.

The 26-year-old Winnipeg native took over sole possession of the league scoring race and boosted Rangers into second place, a point behind Montreal Canadiens. Dean Prentice shared the limelight by firing home all four scoring passes set up by Bathgate.

In Chicago the on-again-off-again Black Hawks pulled a 3-2 victory out of the fire against Boston Bruins. The win put Hawks into a three-way tie for third place with Bruins and De-

HOCKEY BLITZ BIG SUCCESS, KIDS COLLECT RECORD TAKE

The minor hockey drive went over the top last night, to the tune of $627, the best in history.

A contingent of 30 cars carried 200 youngsters into action, and the response of citizens was overwhelming, according to the minor association's president, Don White. Members of the ladies' auxiliary supplied hot dogs and soft drinks for the boys when they returned to the arena, following the drive.

Tonight the new members have a chance to use their membership tickets, when Kelowna juveniles host the Summerland club at 8 p.m. Entry is free with a membership ticket.

Juniors' Power Pays Off, Vernon Wilts Under Attack

Kelowna juniors showed plenty of power in their first time out this year.

Travelling to Vernon Tuesday night, they walloped the northerners 6-0 in a free-wheeling, rugged hockey game.

Facing the Kelowna attack were Joe Fisher and Nick Bulach, with a brace apiece. Ralph Boychuk and George Redlich picked up singletons in the lop-sided victory.

The locals displayed plenty of power in their victory, but Vernon were not as bad as the score indicated, according to Kelowna coach, Gerry Levasseur. He and team manager Ray Powell made the trip to Vernon.

Moscow Dynamos Tie With Packers

MOSCOW (AP) — Canada's Kelowna Packers had to come from behind twice tonight to hold a reinforced Moscow Dynamo club to a 2-2 tie in an exhibition hockey game.

Kelowna's Fred Dunsmore suffered a possible fracture of the cheekbone in a collision with a Russian during the first period. The Packers still are looking for their first win in their exhibition series here. They tied 1-1 Tuesday and lost the first game of the series Sunday 4-3.

Third meeting was a rough one, with tempers and sticks rising high. Despite the roughness, the game was fast, with both teams going all out.

Both goalies, Dave Gatherum of the Packers and 17-year-old Vladimir Chirnov of the Dynamos, were brilliant as they pulled off repeated goal-mouth saves.

Canada again took the brunt of the penalties, getting six of the eight called by the referee. Brian Roche led with two minors. Andy McCallum drew a 10-minute misconduct for protesting too vigorously a roughing penalty to Middleton in the third period. Harry Smith and Russ Kowalchuk each drew minors.

OPENED SCORING
The Russians opened the scoring on a quick break at the 3:20 mark of the first period. Vladimir Yurzinov picked up the puck in his own zone, fired a perfect pass to Yuri Krylov who skated in on Gatherum to score before the Packers could recover.

The Packers jumped to the offensive after that, but sharp force-checking by the Russian forwards took a lot of pressure off the defence and Chirnov. Jim Middleton finally tied the score at 17:12 of the first period. Middleton assisted twice against the Russians in the 1955 world hockey championships when Penticton 7s beat Russia 5-0 in the final game to clinch the championship.

PASSING PAYS
Russia's sharper passing paid off early in the second period when Viktor Yakushev, borrowed from Moscow Locomotives for the game, scored on a close-in drive.

The Packers again tied it at 15:19 of that period when Mike Durban, a firebrand all night, blasted a shot through a maze of players in front of the Russian net.

The Packers again were lucky to get a tie. The Dynamos showed much sharper passing and tighter force-checking than the more individualistic Canadians.

Summary
First period: 1. Moscow, (Krylov Yurzinov) 3:20 2. Kelowna, Middleton (Smith) 17:12.
Second period: 3. Moscow, Yakushev (Tsiplakov) 3:32; 4. Kelowna, Durban (Jones) 15:29.
Third period: No scoring.
Finalists: Roch 2. Kowalchuk, Smith, Middleton, McCallum (major and misconduct); Tikhanov, Krylov.

Cagers Clash With Vernon In High School Gym Tonite

Kelowna's senior basketball teams will swing into action again tonight in the high school gymnasium, with Vernon the opposition.

Meikle Teddy Bears—realizing they've got their work cut out for them against Vernon this year—will play the opener at 7:30 sharp. Coach Bob Hall, following the game in Vernon last week, said: "It's not going to be so easy this year. They're still not as good as my girls but they're better than last season, and by the time this season is over we'll know we've got some competition."

Vernon Hotels are a big team and move the ball well but lack the polish around the basket.

Grey Cup Fans Problems Will Be With Wardrobes

VANCOUVER (CP) — Eastern and stormy weather on the Pacific coast is making it possible, say Pacific forecasters, that the Grey Cup final might be held in a warm place.

Fans who hope to be at the game in the 1:30 p.m. EST Cup kick-off, a heavy overcoat is not a good idea, as the sun is expected to be out for most of the afternoon and, if it is any consolation, there was no rain during the 1955 final here.

No official forecast has been issued for Nov. 29 when East meets West in the country's greatest single sports spectacle. That was on Nov. 26, the temperature was a cool 36. Two hours after the game ended rain poured down on the city followed by snow before midnight.

Cloudy skies, at least a threat of light rain and 45-degree temperatures and light winds. Fog is not a threat.

PRAIRIE WEATHER
November generally is cloudy and rainy in the last 10 years on Nov. 29, but little or no rain has fallen.

The last time it rained heavily enough on Nov. 29 to have any appreciable effect on football playing conditions was in 1953. Then there was less than one-fifth of an inch of rain.

Fog has been serious on only one Nov. 29 in the last 10 years. It happened in 1956 when visibility was limited to about 225 yards. Only once since British Columbia Lions joined the Western Interprovincial Football Union in 1954 has a league game here been interrupted by fog.

With minutes remaining in a night game against Winnipeg Blue Bombers Oct. 23, 1954, and Bombers leading 18-0, play was halted because of fog. Bombers were awarded the game.

CONTESTANT

Eskimo Uprising Clobbers Bombs

WINNIPEG (CP) — Edmonton Eskimos, behind a hard-charging line, showed a complete reversal of form Wednesday night as they walloped Winnipeg Blue Bombers 30-7 to force a third deciding game in the best-of-three Western Interprovincial Football Union final.

Bombers won the opening game by an identical score in Edmonton last Saturday. The sawoff contest will be played here at 2 p.m. Saturday, with the winner advancing into the Grey Cup final at Vancouver on Nov. 29 against the Big Four winner between Hamilton Tiger-Cats and Ottawa Rough Riders.

It marks the second straight year the two clubs are battling in a three-game final. Bombers won the odd game last year in an overtime battle but lost in the Grey Cup to Hamilton.

Veteran halfback Ron Miles, subbing for injured Don Flynn, sparked the Eskimos' offensive with two touchdowns, both on passes from Canadian Don Getty, who went all the way at quarterback.

But it was a big Edmonton line, led by Art Walker and Ed Gray, that put the damper on the hunched Winnipeg attack, much to the dismay of the 16,880 fans who travelled through snow-covered streets following a two-day blizzard.

Fullbacks Normie Kwong and Johnny Bright crashed over for the other Edmonton touchdowns, while Joe Mobra added two converts and a 13-yard field goal. Jim Letcavits booted a single to round out the scoring.

Speedy halfback Leo Lewis scored Bombers' only touchdown on a dazzling 18-yard run through a maze of would-be tacklers.

Fullback Charlie Shepard kicked a single for the other point.

Edmonton struck early to take a 6-0 lead in the first quarter, but Bombers fought back to deadlock the score 7-7 at the half. It was all Eskimos the remainder of the way as they went in front 16-7 in the third quarter and added two converted touchdowns in the final.

GERMAN RATED AS TOPS
TORONTO (CP) — Hans Guenther Winkler of Germany, who shapes up as the year's finest horseman in international jumping competitions, rode two horses Wednesday night to win the five-nation two-and-two event at the Royal Winter Fair.

Winkler cleared all 18 obstacles with the two mounts, Sonnen-glanz and Hall. His was the only perfect performance of the contest.

Coach Eyes '60 Olympics For College Pucksters

TORONTO (CP) — Jack Kennedy of us but I suspect they'd just as nedy's University of Toronto soon take us on."

Kennedy was quick to add that his comments didn't apply to the world champion Whistley Dunlops, who also are taking dead aim on a shot at the 1960 Winter Olympics where the 1960 Winter Olympics will be staged.

"I know the manager (Wren) he said in an interview. 'What time if he has the time,' said Kennedy.

"We'd have to meet the hard-bitten guys in the Ontario Hockey Association senior," he said. "They'd show us quickly enough."

Kennedy has written to a number of OHA senior teams in an attempt to arrange exhibition games but so far hasn't had a nibble.

"They have very tight schedules," he said. "Finding times to play exhibition games with Varsity is a real problem."

"On the other hand, we feel that some of them just aren't in the cup finals. As the Toronto Varsity Grads they won right out and say they are afraid the Olympic title in 1928."

Outer Space Challenge Stills Bickering In United Nations

By LLOYD McDONALD
Canadian Press Staff Writer
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) The awesome challenge of outer space appears to have stilled United Nations member countries' procedural disputes over how man should deal with it.

Political, military, legal, medical and economic questions—to name only a few—remain unsolved. But for the first time the Eastern and Western big powers seem agreed that no small issues should stand in the way of humanity's progress into the void.

Tuesday afternoon Russia's deputy foreign minister, Valerian Zorin, told the UN's political committee, which has been debating the issues of outer space since last week, that his Moscow government would step down from its previously solid position of linking outer space with big-power military bases on foreign soil. This contention, obviously aimed at the United States, until then had threatened any form of agreement here.

Zorin did make clear, however, that it should not be linked with the current deadlocked sessions at Geneva on the question of nuclear tests and technical measures to prevent surprise attacks.

All through the debate here the tendency has been to put military issues to one side and consider instead how conquest of space could best benefit mankind.

Canada's Ambassador Charles S. A. Ritchie, for example, has told the committee that since only the two big powers—the U.S. and Russia—have been able to penetrate and space barrier, there is a need for some form of international control for the benefit of the smaller countries.

Ritchie expressed satisfaction at the Russian switch of position here, and thought it could pave the way for a compromise motion to which all 81 UN members could agree unanimously.

ZORIN PASSES THE WORD
The Soviet delegate earlier in the day has passed this word privately to U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, and repeated it to a press conference attended by correspondents representing all areas of the world. There was a welcoming reaction at the UN even before Zorin spoke up in the political committee itself.

Zorin's concession means Russia will accept the Western-sponsored idea of an outer space study committee without the divisive tag of making it in effect a body of censure for American military programs.

What prompted this Russian concession was still uncertain to

Mid-November Marriage Rites Conducted At Buddhist Church

Flowers and wedding bells with blue and white streamers at the altar of the Buddhist Church formed a pretty background for the wedding of Joan Nideko Nikita to James Jinichiro Kitaura at a mid-November ceremony.

Rev. S. Ikuta conducted the afternoon double ring rites for the elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gengo Nikita and the elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Jinichiro Kitaura.

A waist-length gown of scalloped lace and bouffant finet was worn by the bride, given in marriage by her father. The lace bodice was fashioned with modified sabrina neckline and scallop-outlined sleeves, joining the graceful skirt in tier effect. Her short round veil was held by a small crown. Talisman roses formed the bridal bouquet and her jewelry was a string of pearls.

A trio of attendants gowned alike in light blue brocaded models with flaring skirts and scooped necklines, were maid of honor Miss Margie Hikida, bridesmaid Miss Carol Terada, and little Ruby Ueyama as flower girl. Their floral head-dresses, shoes and gloves, were white and they carried yellow carnation bouquets.

Groomsmen was Mr. Barney Kikura and Mr. Sue Koga was usher. Organist was Mrs. Paul Phillips.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Nikita chose a blue gown with black hat and white gloves. Her corsage was of yellow and white. The groom's mother wore a dress in blue with matching hat, and her corsage was white.

A reception in the Aquatic ballroom for 250 guests followed the ceremony. The bride's table was attractively decorated with yellow chrysanthemums.

For a honeymoon tour of the States, the bride changed to a cream colored model with top-coat of black. Her hat and gloves were tan with black patent shoes and bag.

Guests who travelled here for the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. H. Nishizaki, Mr. and Mrs. F. Sakaki, and Mr. and Mrs. M. Yamamoto, all of North Kamloops; Mr. and Mrs. K. Ito, Mr. and Mrs. M. Nakashima, Mr. Shimodaira, Monte Lake; Mr. and Mrs. S. Sakaki, and Mr. George Ohaski, and Miss Rumiko Iriyawa of Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. K. Tanemura, Mr. and Mrs. Yosh Takahashi, and Mr. and Mrs. I. Tanemura, Salmon Arm; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kuroda, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kurda, West Summerland.

Following the business meeting, the members as a group adjourned to the bazaar and tea which was held that afternoon by members of the Catholic Women's League.

Several local teen-age girls, members of the Kelowna chapter of Job's Daughters, are busy helping their group raise funds in the district. They are canvassing this area selling Christmas cards, and are also offering tickets on a turkey drawing, with the proceeds to go to Kelowna's Sunnyvale centre for retarded children.

Turn-out of parents at last week's "open house" at George Pringle High School was very satisfactory. This was not the regular education week event, but was offered as an opportunity for parents to talk to their children's teachers immediately following distribution of the term's first report cards. Members of the school's Junior Red Cross Society served tea following the visits.

Mrs. D. Gellatly left Monday evening for Whalley, having received word that her grand-daughter, Wendy Dobbin, is very ill and in hospital there.

Robin Drought returned Sunday from two weeks in Kelowna General Hospital.

WESTBANK

WESTBANK — Members of the Catholic Women's League here held a very successful bazaar and afternoon tea last Thursday. In addition to the sale of handwork and home cooking, draws for several items were held.

Winner of the first prize, a grocery hamper, was Linda Schneider. The second prize, a velvet pillow went to Mrs. Ida Topham of Peachland, while Mrs. A. Williams won a large Christmas cake. Father McKenzie of Kelowna held the lucky ticket on the cake that was the sole prize in a separate drawing.

Two money-raising events planned for the near future are keeping members of St. George's Anglican Church Guild busy. Collecting, sorting, and pricing rummage is the immediate concern, with the date of the annual fall rummage sale set for November 26. This sale will take place at the Anglican Parish Hall in Kelowna, beginning at 2 p.m.

Convenors of various stalls in the Guild's bazaar, set for December 6, will be named at the group's next meeting, to be held December 2 at the home of Mrs. Wm. McKay. In conjunction with this bazaar there will also be an evening card-party and a turkey raffle. The bazaar and tea will begin at 2:30, with the card party set for 8 p.m.

The complete executive of the Westbank Women's Institute was returned to office at the group's annual meeting. Mrs. F. L. Clark will retain the chair, assisted by Mrs. T. B. Reece as vice-president. Mrs. Wm. McLean as secretary and Mrs. J. H. Blackie as treasurer. These officers will also act as directors, with Mrs. Irene Gaskill and Mrs. A. L. Clark completing the board.

Annual reports were submitted, and all showed a successful year in every branch of the Institute's varied activities. Mrs. A. L. Clark, as home economics convenor, reported that two quilts are under way and one is completed, these to be held on hand for any emergency that might arise in the community.

Welfare convenor Mrs. McLean reported that the group's resolution asking for more government funds for research in mental disease passed in both the provincial and dominion Women's Institute conventions at Vancouver and Ottawa. Also included in this report was the account of the collection of six sacks of clothing, which has been forwarded to the Unitarian Service Committee.

This is a continuous effort on the part of the W.I., and another community collection for clothing, particularly for children's garments, will be undertaken in the near future. The many homeless children of war-torn Korea are the recipients of these much-needed clothes.

Mrs. F. L. Clark, in her president's report, particularly mentioned that Mrs. Blackie was elected president of the South Okanagan District Women's Institutes, at the May 6 rally at Oliver.

Two very successful efforts were reported by citizenship convenor Mrs. T. B. Reece, who told of the community canvass for funds to refurbish the Westbank wards in Kelowna General Hospital. As a result of this canvass, $320 was collected—enough to purchase three overhead trays and two mattresses, and to redecorate those wards.

Mrs. Reece also told of the upkeep and improvements to the Hudson's Bay Fur Brigade Trail cairn here, stating that in addition to regular upkeep, water for irrigation was piped in, a flag-pole erected, and additional trees planted to make the site more attractive.

Following the submission of this report, Mrs. Reece presented to the Institute the Canadian Ensign which, with the community's centennial flag, has been flying over the cairn-site this past year. She also turned over to the group the beautifully leather-bound visitors' book which bears the signatures of those who attended the unveiling of the cairn in 1949, along with those of the honored guests at the recent Westbank centennial dinner.

Following the business meeting, the members as a group adjourned to the bazaar and tea which was held that afternoon by members of the Catholic Women's League.

Several local teen-age girls, members of the Kelowna chapter of Job's Daughters, are busy helping their group raise funds in the district. MISS JEAN WILTON

Child Counsellor Will Address PTA Next Meeting

"The Role of the School District Counsellor" is the subject chosen by Miss Jean E. Wilton, speaker at the next general meeting of the Kelowna Elementary PTA to be held Tuesday, November 25 at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of the Senior High School.

Miss Wilton was appointed school district counsellor in September this year to fill the need for a social worker on the school staff to deal with the matter of discipline and other psychological problems of the emotionally disturbed child.

Formerly case worker for the John Howard Society in Vancouver for six years, Miss Wilton will be remembered by the Kelowna public as the chairman of the Panel Discussion "Is there an answer to juvenile delinquency" which was sponsored by the Kelowna Elementary PTA last January.

Miss Wilton holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Queens University, Kingston, and a Bachelor of Social Work degree from the University of British Columbia.

Lions' Ladies Snowball Frolic Plans Completed

Decorations for the big Snowball Frolic, one of the festive highlights of the winter season, was the chief topic of discussion at the November meeting of the Lions' Ladies held at the home of Mrs. F. A. Manson this week.

Mrs. A. S. H. Cook is convenor of this event which will take place December 5 at the Aquatic ballroom. The informal affair will be cabaret style with music by Charles Pettman's orchestra.

In charge of decorations are Mrs. Ben Gant and Mrs. R. J. Coffin, and Mrs. Desmond Short, who is looking after tickets.

Proceeds from the ball will be used for many charitable causes and the Lions' Ladies are sparing no efforts in planning this annual event.

European Theatres Are State-Supported

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Norwegian actress Tore Sogelke says she and her manager-husband, Dr. Anton Raabe, enjoy collecting old houses in Norway and moving from one to another. "We have collected 20 homes, all log cottages ranging from one to six rooms and up to 700 years old," she said.

Miss Sogelke has been touring North America lecturing on the art of acting and the European theatre.

"American theatres are more business-like and commercial than those in Europe," she said.

"We have the state-supported theatre all over Europe. We can afford to play Shakespeare, Ibsen and Eugene O'Neill much more than in the United States. In the U.S., play producers have to be sure beforehand of a commercial success."

She recently made her debut on television, and says "I liked it because I was quite alone and could concentrate."

Violinist With Magic Tone First Civic Music Artist

The story of Fredell Lack, the enchanting young violinist who appears first in this season's Civic Music Series at the Empress Theatre on Nov. 24 at 8:15 p.m., is a rare one indeed. It is the tale of a prodigy who grew gracefully and naturally into a mature and vital artist. It is the story of an extraordinarily bright and talented child who, through the love and guidance of an understanding family and through her own enthusiasm for life, has managed to combine happily the often conflicting roles of glamorous performer, wife, mother and civic leader.

Miss Lack, who has been hailed by critics as "the leading young female concert violinist in the land," is a familiar figure in concert halls both here and abroad. She has been warmly cheered by press and public in hundreds of cities from coast to coast, appearing in recital, as soloist with major orchestras and with her own Lyric Art Quartet.

Tours have also taken her to Europe, Canada, Hawaii and Central America. She has starred on her own network radio show, made numerous appearances on radio and TV, and recorded extensively.

LARGE FAMILY... It all began in Tulsa, Oklahoma, where Fredell Lack was born into a large and close-knit family. Her parents loved music and Fredell was taken to concerts often and heard much music at home. As her fascination for the art grew, she was no longer satisfied to simply observe, and her parents decided when she was six to give her violin lessons.

Under the guidance of Tosca Berger she advanced so quickly that by the time she was eight years old she was ready to make her debut in a full solo recital. Being gained her distinction of being the youngest concert artist in Oklahoma history.

But this was only the beginning, for at the age of 11 Fredell was already performing as violin soloist with the Tulsa Symphony Orchestra, playing intricate passages of Wieniawski for several thousand amazed Tulsa citizens.

About this time the Lack family moved to Houston, Texas, where Fredell continued her studies with Josephine Boudreaux. The slender, dark-eyed girl continued to win the hearts and praises of audiences throughout the Southwest. It soon became known that this was a youngster of no ordinary talent.

CELEBRATED TEACHER... So off she was packed to New York where she auditioned for the celebrated teacher Louis Persinger. She was only 11 years old at the time, but Mr. Persinger, whose students have included such greats as Yehudi Menuhin and Heifetz, recognized the potential of the child at once and accepted her as his pupil. He continued as her teacher after Fredell, at 17, was awarded a four-year scholarship to the Juilliard School of Music in New York.

During her years in New York Miss Lack developed her penchant for prize winning and walked off with such honors as the McDowell Club Award, the National Federation of Music Clubs Award, and the American Artists' Award. In 1951 Fredell Lack's name was among the laureates of the Queen Elizabeth International Competition held in Brussels.

MAGIC TONE... Miss Lack's Town Hall debut in 1943 was acclaimed "a brilliant success." Said the N. Y. World Telegram after her performance, "Now a mature artist, she displayed the technique and style to carry her over any and all hurdles." At her debut at the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D.C., she was hailed by the Washington Times-Herald as "one of those phenomenal violinists who come periodically from the studios of Louis Persinger. Her tone is magic."

In 1947 Miss Lack made musical headlines when she accepted an offer to become the first woman concertmaster of the Little Orchestra Society, an organization with which she has often been featured as soloist under the baton of Thomas Scherman. She has also performed under such conductors as Stokowski, Kurtz, Steinberg, Beecham, Goldschmann, Abravanel and Allessandro.

She has been heard many times at Town Hall since her debut. Following her last recital there in October of 1957 the N.Y. Times announced that "Fredell Lack has established herself as one of our leading young violinists."

Opportunities were plentiful in New York for such a talented and pretty young artist who was skyrocketing her way to national fame, but Miss Lack is a simple Southern girl at heart with a great love for family and home. So in 1951, after she had married a young doctor, Ralph Eichhorn, the couple decided to return to Houston—Ralph to develop his medical career (Dr. Eichhorn is now a prominent Houston doctor with a wide practice and teaches internal medicine at Baylor Medical College), and Fredell to become one of the leading figures on the Southwest cultural scene.

"I am a product of the Southwest—Texas and Oklahoma," Miss Lack explains. "It seems right that I should return to the part of the country that encouraged me and took pride in me, to give back some of the knowledge and skill I acquired, to help produce an even better musical environment for the talents to come."

Miss Lack is a firm believer in the trend toward decentralization of music. She believes that cultural opportunities need not—

First World Beauty Happy In Motherhood

MANILA (AP)—The first Miss Universe—Armi Kuusela of Finland, crowned at Long Beach, Calif., in 1953—now leads a quiet life here with her Filipino husband, Virgilio Hilario, and three children.

"My children (Arne, 3; Anna-Lisa, 1½, and Eva Maria, one month) seem to be my chief hobby now. They keep me busy all day," she said recently.

Home for them is a modern, air-conditioned bungalow in fashionable Forbes Park—Manila's millionaires' row.

"I would describe my life here as a very quiet one. We love to stay home with the family as often as possible," she said.

Except for a slight maternity bearing, 24-year-old Armi's Nordic beauty seems untouched by the tropics, motherhood and the task of keeping house for her 30-year-old realtor-builder husband.

Armi has been so busy raising her family she hasn't followed the Miss Universe contests closely.

She met Hilario, son of a wealthy landowning family, in 1953 in Manila when the then Miss Universe came to visit the Philippines.

A whirlwind courtship wound up at a wedding ceremony in Tokyo on May 4 of that year. They visited Finland in 1955.

Language has never been a problem because she speaks fluent English, spoken by the vast majority of people here. She hasn't had much of a chance to teach her children her native tongue "because I'm the only one who speaks the language here and I don't want them to get confused."

and should not—be confined to large cities. The citizens of smaller communities are a responsive and appreciative audience, for their musical tastes are still unspoiled and not yet satiated.

As mother of two young children, Ardis and Eric, and wife of a leading young physician, Fredell Lack lives in a spacious home in the residential section of town. She budgets her time so that practicing does not interfere with her family life. She tries to limit her tours to no more than three weeks at a time and is away from home every day when she is away. She does her own cooking, manages her own household, and takes part in community projects. "Of course I could not do this all without the understanding and help of my husband Ralph," Miss Lack admits.

MINER FINDS PLACE WHERE WIFE WON'T LIVE IN FEAR

One miner who is happy at the prospect of "seeing the sky when I work," Harold Brine, left Springhill, N.S., to travel by air to Toronto, where a job is waiting for him. A rug company offered him a position when his wife expressed a hope that he would never have to go again into the Springhill mine where he was trapped for six days. He intends to establish his family in Etobicoke, a Toronto suburb, where "my wife will no longer live in fear."

Nanaimo Zoo Operator Prepares New Start

NANAIMO, B.C. (CP) — Paul Hertel, 48-year-old Wellington zoo operator, is preparing to start anew at an 80-acre site six miles north of here. The stocky zookeeper began making plans following his acquittal by an assize court jury here on a charge of criminal negligence, laid after Maureen Vanstone, 8, was killed last May by a lioness which escaped from Hertel's zoo. Mayor Pete Hertel of Nanaimo has promised Hertel his support. "I feel that now the zoo is under government supervision, it will grow along with the remainder of the city," he said. "Why shouldn't our children and the people in our city have the opportunity to see animals without leaving Vancouver Island to do it?" Hertel established his zoo about two years ago and caged his animals in temporary structures. "But anything we build now will be permanent," Hertel said. He plans to stock the picturesque slopes and rocky crags on the park site with mountain goats, deer and other native animals. A natural lake at the zoo will be used for seals. Already a cement sea lion pool has been built. The lion's pen now is enclosed at the front with thick steel bars and double doors have been installed at the rear of the lion, cougar and bear cages. Four species of deer, a young bull moose and an emu now live together in a two-acre enclosure. Altogether, Hertel has 40 species of larger type animals and a number of smaller animals and birds. Visitors to Vancouver Island, travelling to Nanaimo and wishing to visit the zoo will be transported without charge from either ferry terminal. Mayor Maffeo said the zoo will be "a terrific tourist attraction in years to come."

Education Conference Head Calls For National Parley

OTTAWA (CP) — A call for a federal-provincial conference on education has been voiced by Kurt R. Swinton of Toronto, chairman of the Canadian Conference on Education. He urged also that education be taken out of the field of politics, warning there was an ominous race going on in the world "between education and catastrophe."

WOMEN FINED

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (Reuters) — Fines of £15 or six weeks imprisonment with hard labor were imposed Tuesday on 53 African women who took part in a procession Oct. 28 in protest against the issue of identity cards. Two-thirds of the sentence imposed on the women was suspended for a year on the condition that no offence of a similar nature be committed by them in that time. They were found guilty of failing to disperse when ordered to do so by police.

TEACH FRENCH TO ALL

There was a need also in a bilingual country such as Canada that both the French and English languages be taught in all Canadian schools. He reiterated a previous suggestion that great Canadian thinkers be rewarded. Ten annual awards should be established, each valued at $30,000. A spectacle such as the Grey Cup should be developed where these awards would be granted them with the Queen making the first presentation on her visit to Canada next year.

MOVIE COLUMN

Filmdom Wrestles With Royal Protocol Issues

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — How do you converse with a queen? Can a princess dance with movie stars? Where does royalty sit in a ballroom? These are some of the hundreds of issues Hollywood matrons have been wrestling with for the last three months. The climax of their struggle comes this Saturday night when the local chapter of W.A.I.F., the international child adoption society, presents its annual Imperial Ball. Their guests: Queen Frederika and Princess Sophia of Greece. You don't just ask a queen to dinner and let it go at that. Actress Coleen Gray, local W.A.I.F. president, found that out. "Everything has to be planned, down to the smallest detail," she said. "We have consulted the state department. We have read 15 etiquette books. We have consulted the queen's grand mistress de la court."

BONA FIDE ROYALTY

Coleen's struggle began last June. The Chrysler Corporation agreed to co-sponsor the ball if the ladies could obtain a bona fide member of royalty as guest. Coleen and her aides worked 12 hours composing a letter to Queen Frederika. It was sent through the American ambassador in Athens. Weeks, months went by and no answer came. After repeated cables, the word finally returned: Yes, the ball would coincide nicely with the queen's visit to the U.S.

"Then the work began," Coleen said. She had to find out whether the queen would dance. The answer was no. Would the princess like to dance? Yes? How would the dancing start? The princess would dance alone on the floor with the leading dignitary. Could she dance with movie stars or would she prefer civic figures? Movie stars would be all right if they were "comme il faut" (acceptable).

Results: Comme il faut actors such as Robert Stack and Hugh O'Brian have been designated. Among Coleen's other discoveries: The queen must initiate all conversation.

NEW DIRECTORS

J. Alphonse Ouimet, general manager of the Canadian Broadcasting corporation, will become president of the corporation and head of new 11-man CBC board of governors.

President of the University of Alberta, Dr. Andrew Stewart has been appointed head of the new board of broadcast governors. His 15-man board determines the policy of operation of all radio and television programming in Canada.

COBALT, Ont. (CP) — Two unidentified United States hunters found six burlap sacks of high grade silver ore on the Bass Lake road near this mining area town during the weekend. The bags — weighing over 250 pounds — were turned over to police who estimated the ore was worth between $2,000 and $3,000.

An Invitation...

In conjunction with the announcement by Mr. G. D. (Don) Loane of his retirement from active business, we take this opportunity to ask for your continued patronage. It will be our endeavour to offer you the same quality merchandise and service that Mr. Loane built his successful business on over the years. We wish to thank Mr. Loane personally for his help and courtesy in getting organized and acquainted in Kelowna.

Loane's has been purchased by Mr. R. A. C. McColl of Vancouver, and will operate as Loane's Hardware (1958) and as an independent Marshall Wells Store. Mr. R. J. (Jack) Strachan will be manager, and there will be no changes in the staff, who will continue to offer their friendly service.

Jack Strachan, who is a past resident, is known by many Kelowna people, and is indeed pleased to be again residing here. He has been associated with Mr. Loane in the Wilcox Hall group of stores and comes to Kelowna from Kamloops after six years in that city. He extends an invitation to you to visit the store and become acquainted, and assures you of the desire of Loane's Hardware (1958) to sell quality merchandise at fair prices, with friendly, courteous service.

Bulganin Dropped From Committee

MOSCOW (AP) — Informed sources say former premier Nikita Bulganin has been dropped from the Communist Party's central committee, his last important post.

The bearded former travelling companion of Nikita Khrushchev also has been dismissed from the minor post to which he had been relegated, head of a regional economic council at Stavropol, sources said.

There have been no public announcements of either move. They have been expected, however, since Premier Khrushchev at a central committee meeting a week ago linked Bulganin with the "anti-party group" ousted in July, 1957.

PRAVDA ATTACK

On Monday Pravda attacked Bulganin as one who had "tried to delay the development of the Soviet nation."

Bulganin, reported in failing health at the age of 63, has been in the Soviet high command almost since the 1917 Bolshevik Revolution. He resigned last March 27 as premier and became chairman of the state bank. On Aug. 15 he was demoted to the Stavropol post. Moscow Radio said Sept. 8 he had been removed from the praesidium, the guiding group within the central committee.

There are at least 30 varieties of sturgeon, valued for its caviar, in the ocean and freshwater lakes.

Tasty and nutritious

Whole wheat flour adds character to these dinner rolls of surprising lightness. For dependable results, if you bake at home, use Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast!

WAR ON POACHERS

WARSAP (AP) — The government has issued 2,000 rifles and 3,000 carbines to game wardens in an effort to stamp out poaching. Wardens have been unarmed in the past, and poachers have taken more game than legal hunters.

REDUCE TRAVELS

NICOSIA (AP) — As part of its campaign against underground violence on Cyprus, the government has forbidden all Greek Cypriots between 10 and 27 to use bicycles. Under new regulations they are also forbidden to use motorcycles and scooters.

INDUSTRIAL AID

TOKYO (AP) — Peiping Radio reports the Soviet Union this year has given Red China the equipment for more than 20 metallurgical, machine-building, power and coal enterprises. It said more than 50 will be in operation with Soviet aid by Jan. 1.

PIRATES BUSY

JAKARTA (AP) — Pirates still roam the seas off Indonesia in swift boats. The Japanese vessel Surabaya Maru reported on arrival she had been attacked by pirates armed with knives in Semarang harbor and looted of textiles and other goods.

LAST RUN

LONDON (CP) — The 19,000-ton liner Arundel Castle, for 37 years on the Southampton — Capetown run and a Second World War troopship, is being scrapped. The Union Castle Line is negotiating to sell her, a Hong Kong ship-breaking firm.

STAGE HANDICAP

PARIS (AP) — Maria Garbaccio won a $714 damages award from a plastic surgeon, after a stomach operation left a seven-inch scar. It's a handicap in her work, she complained. She is a strip-teaser.

BEER CONSUMPTION

MUNICH (Reuters) — The people of Bavaria, noted for its beer cellars, drink more than twice the average amount of beer consumed in the rest of West Germany. But brewing federation figures for the past year show
Bavarians' 35 gallons per head compares with 40 gallons before the war.

WRITER'S MEMORIAL

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (Reuters) —
The area surrounding Robert Louis Stevenson's tomb on the summit of Mount Vaea in Samoa has been created a memorial reserve by the government of Western Samoa. From his former residence, now government house, the trail to the summit passes through the reserve.

"DECADENT" STYLES

BELGRADE (Reuters) — Blue jeans and American-style sport shirts have vanished from the streets in Sofia, say travellers returning from the Bulgarian capital. Bulgarian police are under orders to pick up any youngsters wearing "decadent Western clothes."

TEACH RUSSIAN

CAIRO (Reuters) — Egyptian secondary schools are including Russian in their language curriculum this year. German and Italian are also being added to the previous courses in English and French.

Opening lead—king of spades.
Bridge is not a lazy man's game. It is a game where you have to take time out to think. To play mechanically and without thought is bound to lead eventually to bad results.
We are reminded of these things by this hand played in a rubber bridge game. South got to five diamonds doubled. West opened the king of spades and continued with a spade which declarer ruffed. After the ace of diamonds was forced out, South had an easy time making eleven tricks, his losing club going off on dummy's fourth heart.

But the contract should have been defeated. East should have overtaken the spade king with the ace and led the king of clubs. Against this defense South would have had to go down.
Nor is this a difficult play for East to make. The only thing hard about the play is that there is a natural tendency to let West's king of spades win the first trick without wasting the ace.
But a little thought should convince East that it is right to overtake the king of spades. Enough information can be gathered from the bidding, the opening lead, and the sight of dummy's threatening hearts to persuade East of the necessity for a Club shift.
By the same reasoning, if West has four spades, giving declarer one, East can well afford to play the ace to make the vital club shift.
And if West raised with only three spades the ace play can do no harm either. This is because West is marked on the opening lead with the queen of spades as well as the king. (If West originally held K-9-2, his proper opening lead is the deuce. With K-Q-2 or K-Q-9-2, the king is led.)
All signs point in one direction. The king of spades must be overtaken with the ace.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

By ESTRELLITA

FOR TOMORROW
CERTAIN situations may arise now that could be confusing; but if you maintain a realistic attitude, you'll come out all right. Don't be swayed by your own enthusiasms or the rosy promises of others.
FOR THE BIRTHDAY
If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that while you may be currently faced with some financial problems, the situation will be of short duration and, if met with courage and realism, can be handled easily. Do not allow worry or pessimism to interfere with the fine headway you can make in the coming year despite this, or other temporary setbacks.

Between January and June, there is a strong possibility that your ties with someone of great importance in furthering your aims could be considerably strengthened—to your advantage. Job advancement and increased prestige are indicated in mid-1959. Make the most of business opportunities available late in December since, ably handled, they could get you off to a good start in the new year. Personal relationship will be under generally good aspects for the next twelve months, with especially good influences governing between June and September.
A child born on this day will be enterprising, ambitious and persevering.

CITY LIFE NOT GAY FOR FOX

Ten shots were needed to kill this fox which wandered into a Toronto garage, bit the family dog and appropriated its food. Thomas Masters saw the fox in his garage and, knowing the likelihood of its being rabid, Who's Likely Prospect For A Heart Attack?

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

You may ask: Am I going to have a heart attack?
I can't tell for sure, of course, but I do know the type of individual who is most apt to have one.
It is a man past the age of 45, probably somewhere in his early 50s.
OFFICE WORKER
He works in an office either as an executive or as an employee with some responsibilities. He is ambitious, and because he is, he works hard, too hard. He drives himself almost constantly, and he sacrifices sleep and rest in favor of business and business-related social functions. He worries at the office and he worries at home—about the office.

UNHAPPY HOME LIFE
He is restless and often has a rather unhappy home life. Because he permits his business to dominate his life, his wife probably complains frequently. To him, it seems as though she is griping about something all the time.
The children, too, seem to be quarrelsome and sassy far too often.
In addition to all this, our friend may be overweight, probably by 15 pounds or maybe even more. As a rule, he likes to eat, drink and smoke.

GOOD LOOK
Do you fit this description? If you do, it is time to sit down and take a good look backward—and a good look ahead.
I realize that there are millions of Canadian men who fit the picture and that only a very small percentage will have heart attacks. But why not readjust your life, if you may be a candidate for a heart attack?
You don't have to give up everything for which you have been striving. Simply work less strenuously, leave your business and business worries at the office, give your home and family the attention they deserve, and get more rest and sleep.

CONSULT DOCTOR
Get your doctor's advice about your weight problem, and whether you can continue drinking and smoking at the same rate.
Don't put this off for any length of time. And if recently you have been feeling sort of tired and have noticed a sensation of pressure in your chest every now and then, see your doctor today.
QUESTION AND ANSWER
A.L.: Can saccharin be harmful in any way?
Answer: No harmful results have been known to result from the use of saccharin. You need have no fear of bad effects.

CONFERENCE
The Senior Council would like to take this opportunity to thank all those students who put forth so much time and effort making the 8th Annual Conference such a success. A full write up of the conference was in last Saturday's and Monday's paper, so I won't stress it further in my column.
EXAMS
With a sigh of relief, the great week is now over and gone. Now for the results! After the chemistry exam took place I overheard the following conversation in the hall.
"Did you pass your exam?"
"Well, it was like this—you see..."
"Shake! Neither did I."

REMEMBRANCE DAY
On Monday, Nov. 10 a memorial service was attended by the student body. The band played the Lord's Prayer plus two other selections. Mr. Bruce gave a very interesting talk and Mr. Cowan led in prayer. Followed by two minutes of silence. David Geen, president quoted the following words:
"They shall grow not old, as we that are left grow old."

Age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn.
At the going down of the sun and in the morning
We will remember them."
ANNUAL CLUB
Another variety concert will be held at the Rutland Jr.-Sr. High School Auditorium on Wednesday Nov. 26 at 8 p.m. A good program has been arranged and it promises a good evening of entertainment. Let's make this the biggest turnout ever—you'll enjoy seeing local talent in person—so make it a date for 8.
CENTENNIAL CONCERT
A centennial concert was held in the Rutland High School Auditorium. The program included a half hour concert by the Rutland High School band, a play by the High School Drama Club, colored movies of centennial events, Rutland and Kelowna, showed by Bert Chichester, magicians show by Bruce Bissell, and vocal and instrumental numbers by "The Emeralds" and others.
Miss Cynthia Russo, Rutland's Centennial Queen acted as M.C. There was a good turnout and everyone seemed to have enjoyed themselves very much. Proceeds went to the aid of the centennial project and park funds.

"NEVER PAY 70¢ AGAIN" SAY HOUSEWIVES AFTER TASTING NEW MARGARINE

Mayflower has the taste that's been missing in Margarine.

Hundreds of women taste-tested completely new, completely different Mayflower Margarine and the great majority of them agreed: "You can't tell the difference between Mayflower and the high-priced spread."

At last! The taste that's been missing in margarine—mayflower has real natural taste

Like the 70¢ spread, Mayflower is sold only under refrigeration. Look for it in the refrigerated counter at your grocer's today!

TRY THIS TASTE TEST FOR YOURSELF! Spread a piece of toast with completely new, completely different Mayflower and another with the "high-priced" spread. Taste them both. See if you don't agree with hundreds of other housewives who couldn't tell the difference between Mayflower and the "high-priced" spread.

TRY MAYFLOWER ANY WAY YOU LIKE—on fresh bread, on muffins or on hot vegetables. The answer is always the same—Mayflower has the taste that's been missing in margarine—real natural taste!

YOU'LL FIND MAYFLOWER SUPERIOR IN MANY WAYS. It gives your family the same nourishing quality all year round. It stays fresh longer. It spreads smoother and easier.

SO WHY PAY 70¢ EVER AGAIN for a table spread, when you can enjoy Mayflower's real natural taste for so much less.
